Miss Florence Conway Drowns.

Miss Florence Conway, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Conway, of Winchester, was drowned Tuesday afternoon in the Kentucky river and three of her companions came near the same fate when they attempted to rescue her. Miss Conway with the 1909 graduating class of the Winchester high school, which is composed of Miss Conway, Miss Ella Bush, Miss Lottie Crane, Willie Nelson, Charles Botkins, Robert Fluty, William Hodgkin, James Shea and Jesse Jones, chaperoned by Mrs. Harry Tanner and Mrs. R. M. Shipp, left Winchester Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock for the river for a picnic. The accident occurred between 1:30 and 2:30 just a short while after lunch. Miss Conway and Miss Ella Bush were sitting on a log just a few feet below the lock where the water is about 20 feet deep. In some way the Conway girl lost her balance and fell in. Charles Botkins and James Shea who were standing a few feet away saw the girls in the water and plunged in to save them. Neither could swim and the minute they hit the water the girls grabbed them and all four would have drowned had it not been for Jesse Jones who grabbed one of the boys and succeeded in getting the two boys and Miss Bush out. Miss Conway went to the bottom and it was nearly half an hour before her body was recovered. Miss Conway was just 18 years of age and her sweet disposition made her the favorite of the class. She was also popular outside of her school circle and her death is the saddest which has occurred in this section for years.

The parents of the young lady were formerly of Paris. She was a niece of Mrs. James Powers of this city. The funeral services will be held this morning at St. Joseph Catholic church, Winchester, at 7:30 o'clock. The burial will be in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery in Paris.

"Uncle Nick" Surprised.

Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the business career of Mr. Nicholas Kriener, the popular harness and saddle dealer, in this city, and a happy surprise was awaiting him at his home on Twelfth street. Forty traveling men who had been selling him goods for the past forty years, wanted to pay some honor to their old friend and took Mr. Kriener's family into their confidence. So it was arranged that a banquet was to be given by them in his own home on last evening, without Mr. Kriener knowing anything about it until he was invited into the banquet hall.

Everything worked to make the affair a success, and it was an elaborate banquet that was spread last night in honor of Paris' most highly respected and honored citizen. A large Robin picture of Mr. Kriener, had been made and hung upon the wall, under which was the following inscription: "A Round Robin of Loving Esteem in Honor of the 50th Anniversary of the business career of our friend, Nick Kriener, whose rugged honesty, courage in adversity, calmness in prosperity, loyalty to friends, business rectitude and personal charm, are some of the many qualities that have given nobility to his character and made his friendship an inspiration for good and a benediction to all. It is a long way in life's journey that one meets with such a man, and it is with full hearts, highest esteem and sincere wishes for many more years of happiness that we subscribe ourselves, his loving friends."

The following signatures were signed under the above inscription: Francis Hall, A. S. Thompson, J. T. Hinton, John F. McClintock, E. L. Harris, W. W. Mitchell, Jas. E. Clay, Denis Dundon, Chas. B. Erringer, L. Frank, W. H. Anderson, W. C. Ussery, C. F. Dillake, C. L. Blackerby, Emmett M. Dickson, R. P. Hopkins, H. F. Davis, Wm. K. Dudley, Clay Gaitskill, Jos. B. Stewart, Phil Nippert, Sr., Lewis R. Rogers, W. T. Hedges, J. N. Davis, E. M. Green, of Louisville; Jas. T. Short, of Louisville; J. P. McWilliams, of Lawrenceburg; Geo. W. Pickles, of Richmond; W. W. Gill, of Lexington; John Taig, of Lexington; F. N. Woods, of Lexington; J. L. Watkins, of Lexington; Albert Wornback, of Cincinnati; L. Rummel, of Cincinnati; Frank L. Leroy, of Cincinnati; E. W. Campbell, of Cincinnati; J. W. Fitzgerald, Maysville; J. M. Eilens, Cincinnati; Anton Berger, of Cincinnati; A. B. Thompkins, of Cincinnati; G. J. Scherg, of Cincinnati.

The picture is three and a half by four feet set in an elegant gilt frame, the matting of which is painted in forget-me-nots and roses. The drummers whose names appear above are the originators of this happy occasion. The banquet tables were things of beauty, adorned by beautiful cut glass vases filled with the rarest of cut flowers. Hon. E. M. Dickson, acted as toast master and was in his happiest mood.

The man these friends have so honored deserves the honors thus bestowed upon him in his old age, for he is everything that he is said to be in the inscription under the picture as stated above.

Mr. Kriener is in his 71st year and still actively engaged in business, has eight children and two grand children, and we join his friends in wishing him a business career of a century in this community.

The following were the invited guests present: John Pridemore, James McClure, Wm. Remington, Dr. W. R. Smith, Capt. F. E. Nelson and Elder Carey E. Morgan.

Smashing of Party Lines.

Not since the Republicans began their present protective saturnalia of lifting existing rates has there been such a smashing of party lines as that which occurred in the Senate Wednesday when the duty on rough lumber was raised from the House rate of $1 a thousand feet to $1.50 and the rate on pineapples from the existing Dingley rate of 7 cents a cubic foot to 16 cents a pound, or the equivalent of 16 cents per cubic foot. On top of this the rate on coal was fixed at 60 cents as against 67 in the Dingley law. The house had placed coal and slack on the free list.

MATRIMONIAL.

—Miss Fannie Mildred Moore and Mr. Bright Cockerell, of Mt. Sterling, eloped to Maysville in Trimble McKee's automobile Monday night. They attempted to get married at Aberdeen and West Union, Ohio, but did not secure a license, but were finally married at Georgetown, Ohio, Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. Houston, of the Church of Christ. The young folks arrived home Tuesday night and were forgiven. The groom is a son of Mr. W. O. Cockerell, a wealthy farmer, and is only 17 years of age. His bride is the pretty and vivacious daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Moore, of Mt. Sterling, and has just passed her 16th birthday. The youthful couple were accompanied on their elopement by Mr. and Mrs. John Turley, Trimble McKee and Roger Drake, all of Mt. Sterling.

Whiskey Up-to-Date.

What is whiskey today was not whiskey six months ago. It takes much longer by the usual maturing process to change the chemical quality of a barrel of liquor than to change "imitation whiskey" into pure whiskey by substituting one official opinion for another. Solicitor General Bowers has overruled Dr. Wiley and former Attorney General Bonaparte, and another set of legal connoisseurs may overrule him. What may be whiskey when the next Administration comes into power nobody can safely venture to foretell. The day may even be near when the country will divide between parties of strict constructionists and loose constructionists. In the Roosevelt days the Administration dispensed with the Constitution and made its law as it went, but Mr. Bonaparte was a strict constructionist as to whiskey. All blended whiskey, he held, had to be a combination of two straight whiskeys, and all whiskey mixed with other spirits was merely imitation whiskey.

Now the situation is reversed. Conservatism is regarded as the keynote of the Taft administration, yet Mr. Bowers takes the good old liberal view that all whiskey is good whiskey, but some kinds are better than others. So that there is "the requisite amount of by-products of the distillation from grain"—rye, corn, wheat, malted barley; not potatoes apparently—he finds no legal objection to the addition of alcohol and harmless coloring and flavoring matter.

In law-like whiskey, it seems, it is a matter of personal taste.

The Sex That Needs No Vote.

Sometimes it is found possible so apologetically to taste an old truth that it seems for the purpose new, says the New York World. A moment of such achievement came to Miss Anne Morgan on Monday when she spoke at the opening of the new lunch room, an institution planned by her, for the employees of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. "Many of us women," said Miss Morgan, "do not need the suffrage to make us loyal and obedient citizens of the United States."

Being loyal and obedient citizens means being helpful citizens, as Miss Morgan was demonstrating at her moment of speaking. It is conceivable that the power to cast a ballot could have added for her to the quality of significance of her work for men? Rather, knowing how quickly the question of motive enters into practical politics, is it not likely that as a voter among voters she would have been subject on one hand or another to a depreciatory query as to why she had done this thing?

It is because Miss Morgan's words represent the attitude of the majority of her sex that woman suffrage is not an accomplished fact all over the country. The matter is not wholly one of selfishness, nor of carelessness as to the issue. The average woman has that divine sort of selfishness which exists in a desire to be esteemed for herself alone, for the attractiveness and usefulness in her own sphere which establish for her a beloved personality. She knows that she can never raise her value as a helpmate by forcing herself into the position of a calculable quantity at the polls.

"After The Horse is Stolen"

Collier's Weekly is "talking out in meeting" these days. Referring to the fact that Oscar Lawler, of California, has upon the recommendation of Senator Flint, of that State, been made Assistant Attorney General of the United States, with special jurisdiction as the law officer of the interior department, it proceeds to charge that "Senator Flint was the attorney of the Southern Pacific at the time of his election," and that "Lawler is a tool of the Southern Pacific's political machine." "In every State," Collier adds, "the finest types of ability and independent citizenship are blacklisted by this system of appointment." No one who has followed the appointments can fail to note the preference that has been given to the representatives of the big corporations. If any predatory interest has failed to secure a representative among the high up officials, its failure has not yet been noted. But did not Collier's understand last fall that Wall street supported Mr. Taft? And was it innocent enough to suppose that the support was given without expectations, if no understanding?

Lost in Wonder.

The Chicago Record-Herald reports that Jas. A. Patten and his associates wound up their campaign in May wheat with a profit of between three and a half and four millions. Our legislators are so amazed at the successes of the wheat corner and so lost in admiration of the genius that could engineer it that they will probably forget the injustice done to the public and the demoralizing influence which speculation exerts upon those inclined toward grain gambling. How long would it be before public sentiment will cleanse the stock exchange, the board of trade and the chamber of commerce from the abuses which speculation in the necessities of life have introduced?

Democracy.

Senator McEnery, of Louisiana, in making an argument for a duty on sugar says: "It is gratifying that at this session of Congress we notice a great change of opinion among Democrats who are voting for a duty on raw material, although at one time raw material was considered a cardinal principle of Democracy." If Senator McEnery will listen closely he will notice that the sound which emanates from the throats of the Democrats of the rank and file when they read of this change does not resemble rejoicing. And if the Senator happens to look in upon the Senate a few years hence, it may not be gratifying to him to notice so many new faces.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended. A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

From a scientific standpoint a cheerful temper is better than medicine or gold. It tones the system. It gives one a sane outlook on life. But the grouchy, physiologically and psychologically, is dangerous.

An Indigestion
Remedy Free

Many people who are otherwise healthy suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia. When you consider that the stomach and allied digestive organs are the most important organs of the body, it would seem that a disorder there is to be taken very seriously.

Dyspepsia cannot eat the things they like; food sours in the stomach; then chronic constipation begins, or, as is often the case, you have been constipated all along, and the stools are forced and irregular.

But there is no use letting indigestion go until it becomes chronic and undermines your health. It is good advice to suggest to you that you go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the wonderful cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. That is what C. Fowler, of Carson City, Mich., did and he is well today. Others who did the same and are cured are Ida A. Fortune, of Grand Junction, Tenn.; B. F.
Thompson, of Sheppard, Ia., who actually considers that it saved his life. You can obtain a 50-cent or $1 bottle of the drug, and, taken according to directions, it will probably be all you need.
It is a liquid, acts gently, never gripes, and besides the laxative effect, contains exceptional tonic properties which tone the stomach, and that is what is especially needed in indigestion.

All sufferers from indigestion who have tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can obtain a free test bottle, by writing the doctor. It will be sent direct to your home without any charge. In this way thousands have proven to their own satisfaction Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the very remedy they needed to cure indigestion. When once you use this grand remedy you will throw violent cathartics, tablets, salts, etc., away.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service.

Letter to Kentucky Ministers.

The second Whirlwind Campaign for public education in Kentucky will be conducted from Monday, June 28 to and, including Saturday, July 3. The entire State will be covered by speakers of exceptional ability. You know something of the great awakening last year; the results have been very gratifying.

I am asking you to have a vital part in the campaign, for the schools' need is great. To this end I designate Sunday, June 27, to be "Public School Sunday," and I ask that every clergyman in the Commonwealth—minister, pastor, rector, preacher or whatever his title may be—will deliver, on this day, in his own church, at least one address on "Public Education in Kentucky."

I hope that your churches will be especially decorated, that special music will be rendered, that all the children will be invited to be present, and especially that you will invite the parents and the business and professional men of the community. It seems to me that you could do no better service to your church, to your community, and to society, than to participate enthusiastically thus in this educational campaign.

The regular speakers will begin their active work Monday, June 28.
Each county will have a special "Rally Day," an all day, open air meeting, with an additional special speaker for the occasion. The campaign is booming, the fight is on, the reports are more than encouraging. Remember our slogan: "For the Boys and Girls and the Commonwealth."

For an advance educational movement in Kentucky, now, I am,
Very truly yours,
J. G. CRABBE,
Superintendent.

Needed the Prayers.

A sympathetic old clergyman in an English country village was waited on one Sunday morning just before service by a young man, who said:

"Will you kindly ask the congregation's prayers this morning for poor William Smith?"

"Willingly," said the clergyman.

And at the proper moment in the service he besought all those present to pray earnestly for the unfortunate William Smith in the great trouble and peril that encompassed him. The request, he was pleased to note, made a deep impression on the congregation.
After the service, meeting the young man who had asked for intercession in Smith's behalf, the clergyman said:

"What is the matter with your friend? Do you think it would do any good if I were to call on him?"

"I'm afraid not," was the sorrowful reply.

"Is it so bad as that?" said the cler-gyman. "What is the trouble, then?"

"Bill," said the other, "is going to be married."

We Build the Ladder by Which We Rise
Heaven is not reached at a single bound.
But we build the ladder by which we rise

From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

I count this thing to be grandly true—
That a noble deed is a step toward God.
Lifting the soul from the common clod
To a purer air and broader view.

Archie Stood Her Test.

"I know Archie does not drink," confided Mrs. Pike to her sister—"that is, anything stronger than a glass of beer on a hot day or maybe a hot whisky when he has a cold. I made up my mind to test him. I have always said I would never live with a man who drank, so I prepared a test.

"I went down the street to a liquor store and bought a box containing a bottle of whisky, a bottle of madeira wine and a bottle of brandy, all for $1.
In the prettiest little box. Then I surprised him with it for his birthday, and I tell you he was surprised when he saw it and more so when I confessed that I had only paid $1 for the bargain.

"Archie promised me solemnly that he would never taste the horrid stuff, and, although I have kept it handy in his study ever since and watched it anxiously every day, he has kept his word. Oh, I am so glad!"—Puck.

He Knew the Reason.

A rather pompous looking deacon in a certain city church was asked to take charge of a class of boys during the absence of the regular teacher.
While endeavoring to impress upon their young minds the importance of living a Christian life the following question was propounded:

"Why do people call me a Christian, children?" the worthy dignitary asked, standing very erect and smiling down upon them.

"Because they don't know you," was the ready answer of a bright eyed little boy, responding to the ingratiating smile with one equally guileless and winning.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Too Rare.

A party of easterners went bear hunting in California. Pete Wilson led the party, and day and night he boasted of his skill as a bear killer. They got no bear on the hunt, and Pete grieved terribly.

"This is good enough grub," he would say as he pitched into a cold can of preserved meat, "but the finest meal in the world in my opinion, is a bear steak grilled to a turn over a log fire."

"Gimme bear," Pete growled one day. "Gimme a good bear brile. I'm gettin' sick of this canned stuff."

"Look out!" cried a neighbor.
"There's a bear right behind you, man!"

Pete gave one look. It was a bear, sure enough. He turned very pale and bounded off into the woods.

"We thought you liked bear?" they said sarcastically to him on his return.

"So I do," said Pete, "but that feller wasn't well enough done."

Worked the Director.

One of the star comedians at the principal theater in Frankfort went to the director and asked for an advance on his week's salary. The book showed that the whole amount had already been drawn, and the director said,
"No."

"Very good," said the actor; "then I shall refuse to go on tonight."

The director saw that it was dangerously near curtain time and reluctantly gave the actor the amount asked for, but said, "Remember, sir, this is nothing short of extortion, and a cowardly one at that."

"Not at all," Herr Director," said the actor, stuffing the money in his pocket;
"my name is not on the bill for tonight anyway."

His Interpolation.

Colonel J. F. Barton, who died in Alabama in 1897, was famous years ago in the middle west as an editorial writer of great power and versatility.
The queer thing about him was that his normal penmanship looked almost like copperplate—a beautiful flowing script. But let him get excited or hurried, and it doubled discounted the excited chicken tracks on Cleopatra's Needle. One night a tramp printer drifted into a western office where the colonel was in charge and applied for a job. The foreman put him to work, and he pegged along all right until just before the hour for going to press, when Barton sent in a hurry up editorial based on a late news telegram.

Nearly all the printers had left, so the new man got a piece of the copy, a page from about the middle. He carried it to his case, looked at it frowningly, turned it upside down, looked at it again and finally put it in position before him and began to scratch up type. "Read that in your sticks!" yelled the foreman. "We ain't got time for proofs!" And when the new man carried his matter over it was "dumpped" into the forms without further ceremony.

What he had set up ran about like this: "The merchant who wrote the copy I have before me is responsible for my fate. No human being can read it. He cannot read it himself.
Tonight I shall jump a freight and as I am somewhat shaky from recent jags will probably fall off and be killed. My blood be on his head." This remarkable paragraph, appearing without rhyme or reason in the middle of Barton's brilliant editorial, astonished the readers of the paper next morning. When the colonel himself recovered sufficiently to get a club and dash down to the office the tramp printer had vanished.

The Least He Could Do.

A particularly homely man was riding on horseback along a country lane.
Presently he met a lady, also mounted, and drew to one side to allow her to pass.

She also checked her horse and looked the man over in a curious way.
Finally she said:

"Well, I believe you are the home-liest man I ever saw."

"Yes, madam," he replied, "but I cannot help it."

"No, I suppose not," she said, "but you might at least stay at home."

What's In a Name?

Josephine Dodge Daskam (Mrs. Bacon), the authoress, was at a seaside resort one summer. While reading some manuscript on the beach one day a puff of wind carried one of the sheets toward the water. A young artist, a total stranger, who was near by, made a dash for the flying paper and as he almost reached it stumbled and pitched headfirst into the surf.
As he regained the beach, limp and dripping, he growled through his set teeth, "Josephine Dodge Daskam, Josephine Dodge Daskam!"

The authoress, who came up to him at that moment, gazed in amazement at the forlorn looking figure for a second and then said in a tone of sympathy, "Do you know Josephine Dodge Daskam?"

The young man turned a fine red and said sheepishly, "No; I don't know her from Adam, but I've read a lot of her stories, and I always say her name when I want to swear and can't. Her name is the nearest thing to swearing without being swearing that I ever ran across."

Strong on System.

At a certain coal mine in New Mexico the superintendent was greatly annoyed from time to time by employees moving into and out of the company's houses without due notification of their frequent changes of domicile. It became quite impossible to keep the rent accounts straight on the office books, and finally the superintendent in his exasperation resolved upon stringent measures. He therefore posted the following notice, which is given verbatim—orthography, syntax and all:
february the 11th.

Notice to all employees any Person or Persons that Moves into A house Without My Consent shall be Put Out Without any Commomy.
Dam it I Must and Will have some Sis-
tom. (Signed) BEN FILSTER.

A Very Polite Reporter.

"When I was city editor of a little paper in a southern city," said a newspaper man, "I wanted an interview with a senator who was visiting in a nearby city, but our man there wired that he had failed to get the interview because the senator had taken a train for Washington and that we might catch him ourselves when the train passed through our city. Hastily searching a time table, I found that the train mentioned was due in a few minutes. There being no other reporter at hand, I seized Bud Lunkly, a raw reporter fresh from the country, told him to meet this train at the station and get some sort of expression from the senator on a subject then of much importance.

"Some time later Bud strolled calmly in and informed me that after a personal search of every car on the train he had failed to find the senator.
"Do you mean that you looked into all the sleeping berths, Bud?" said I.
"Yep; that's what I done," said Bud.
"But, Bud," I exclaimed in consternation, "weren't a good many of these berths occupied by ladies?"
"Sure," said Bud.

"But what did you do when you found a lady who had retired?"
"When I bustled the curtain open and looked in and a woman jumped up and screamed I took off my hat and says, 'That's all right, lady; you ain't the man I'm looking fer!'"

Stuck to His Work.

Barry Pain, the humorist, at a gathering of artists one evening was called upon for a speech.
"Gentlemen," he said, "being present at a gathering in which art is so largely represented, I feel it incumbent upon me to say a few words concerning the subject of painting. Speaking personally, my only efforts in that direction were on an occasion when I enameled our bath. My friends said to me, 'My dear fellow, it's no good you going in for painting unless you're prepared to stick to your work.'" "Well," concluded Mr. Pain, amid the laughter of his audience, "I did stick to it."

BASE BALL.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

On Tuesday the Bourbonites redeemed themselves for the defeat administered by Sheets' Colts the day before and on the Lexington grounds defeated them by a score of 7 to 5. Dugger was on the mound for the Paris team and held the Colts down to eight scattered hits and striking out twelve men.

"Happy" Doyle was in the box for the Colts and pitched a good game, only allowing the Paris boys five hits, which were secured, however, when most needed. Three of the hits were made by Ochs, one of them being a two-bagger.

The fans were highly elated over the winning of this game, it breaking the "hoodoo" that has been hovering over the Bourbonites every time they have met the Colts this season. The summary of the game follows:

Paris.....1 0 1 0 0 1 4 0 0-7
 Lexington.....0 2 0 0 0 0 1 2-5
 Earned runs—Paris 4; Lexington 2. Two-base hits—Ochs, Scott, Kaiser. Sacrifice hits—Hannigan, Kimbro. First base on balls—off Doyle, 6. Struck out by Doyle, 2; by Dugger, 12. Left on bases—Sheets, Kaiser, Williamson, Varnadore, Ochs. Wild pitches—Doyle 2. Hit by pitcher—Doyle, Scott. Time—2:30. Umpires—Rasche and Dunbar.

WEDNESDAY'S GAME.

The game Wednesday afternoon was the third of the series with Lexington and was two out of the three for Paris. It was the first game played with Lexington without the home team being handicapped by one or more of its best players being crippled, and it was an easy matter for the Bourbonites to make the Colts look like selling platers by a score of 6 to 0.

Tall and lanky Jimmie Poole, the southpaw from Indiana, but who is really a Kentucky boy, was the main guy that did this glorious work, however, the pennant playing ball of the men at his back should not be overlooked, for you don't see the inside ball playing in any other of the clubs that was played by Paris in this game. Two beautiful squeeze plays were worked to a finish and big Jeff, who now handles the stick like a real veteran, was the boy that worked the plays. Elgin played a brilliant game, both at first and at the bat.

Poole, who was in fine form, was invincible, and pitched himself out of several tight places. For instance, in one inning there were three men on bases with no outs and another when two men occupied the bags with no outs. It looked dangerous at both times, but Poole was as cool as an iceberg and showed them a few things that made the visitors look true to selling plater form.

Their feeble attempts to rally were indeed pitiable. Poole struck out eleven men, and gave them six scattering hits. McCormick for the visitors was hit freely, the locals securing eight hits. The following is the summary:

Paris.....0 1 1 0 0 2 0 2 x-6
 Earned runs—Paris, 1. Two base hits—Ochs, Harper, Downing. Sacrifice hits—Kimbro 2, Schmidt, Seebach, Elgin. Stolen bases—Doyle, Downing, Williamson, Ochs. Left on bases—Paris, 7 Lexington 5. Struck out—By Poole, 12; by McCormick, 1. Bases on balls: Off Poole, 2; off McCormick, 1. Umpires—Rasche and Dunbar.

THURSDAY'S GAME.

Paris lost to Winchester yesterday by the score of 4 to 0 in one of the fastest games of the season in the latter city. Winchell for Paris, and Tony for Winchester, were pitted against each other and four hits were made off of each pitcher. The only difference was that the hits off Tony were scattered and those off of Winchell were bunched in the eighth inning. Not a hit was secured off Winchell until the eighth inning. It was simply base ball luck that won the game for Winchester.

Winchell pitched a game that would have won nine out of ten times, and the defeat of yesterday still stamps him as a great pitcher. The only comment we have to make on Tony, is that he also is still a great pitcher. The main features of the game were the pitching of both men, and for Paris the two sensational one hand catches by Scott and one by Barnett. They all played good ball and we still believe in them. "Col." Dugger will in all probability attend to these Hustlers today. The Paris team came home last night without a kick and game to the core. Umpire—Wilson.

NOTES.

Pitcher Davis, of Fulton, Ky., has been signed by the Paris club and ordered to report in time to pitch the game against Winchester Sunday. Davis is over six feet in height and weighs about two hundred pounds. He has never pitched professional ball, but comes highly recommended as a man who will make a valuable addition to the pitching staff of the Bourbonites. It is said that he has been pitching amateur ball for the past two years and has never lost a game.

Manager Schmidt is being highly complimented by the local fans for his thorough and effective training he has given the home boys in inside ball playing. Perfect harmony prevails among the management and players with the result that on the ball field everything moves like clockwork. Schmidt is thoroughly equipped with an unusually large amount of base ball senses and is drilling it in our boys, who are working it with telling effect.

Left fielder Reed has been released by the Paris club and left Wednesday night for Winchester with the view of getting on with the Hustlers. Reed has been holding down left field in fine style, but his batting was anything but favorable to the management, and as the salaries then paid were in excess of the limit it was decided that Reed was the only player to be disposed of without injury to the playing strength of the club.

Seven straights for Jimmie Poole, and the lengthy southpaw seems confident of winning at few more just to keep his "rep" up. He has defeated Richmond twice, Shelbyville twice, Frankfort twice and Lexington once. On Saturday he will probably face the Hustlers for the first time, and promises to make it interesting for "Daddy" Horn and his bunch.

After being out of the game for several weeks Seebach has returned and of the four games he has participated in this week he has done remarkably well under the circumstances. His injured ankle gives him some trouble in running, but he is rapidly rounding to and in a few games will be as good as new.

"Big Jeff" Elgin is working like he never worked before. In Wednesday's game out of three times at bat, he secured three hits. He is fielding his position on first like a veteran and is using the stick with such telling effect that the fans are high in their praise of his efforts to land Paris at the top of the list.

The pennant winning ball the Paris boys are playing is highly pleasing to the lovers of the sport and predictions are numerous that if Paris continues as she has been playing in the past few weeks the close of the season will find the bunting floating over League Park.

The game of Monday will go down in history as one of the worst that the locals have ever played, and there is a big chance it would not occur again in time to come. The home boys redeemed themselves by lashing the Colts in the last two games.

The Paris management threw out the hook for Adolph, who was released from the Lexington club Wednesday. They failed in their attempt to sign the out fielder, who it is reported, has cast his lot with the Shelbyville Millers.

Scott takes everything that comes to short. His throwing is quick and accurate, and when he takes a throw at second the runner always has a bad chance.

Barnett is playing his usual good game at third, but occasionally has an error due, probably, to the fact that his chances are rather difficult to handle.

In Wednesday's game Felix had twelve put-outs to his credit. The little back-stop is taking everything that comes his way in fine style.

From the bottom to third position, the season just about one-third over, and the Paris club playing better every day looks good to us.

Ochs seems to have an eye for two-baggers and never seems satisfied in a game until he gets one to his credit.

Dugger will attend to the Hustlers today at League Park, with the assistance of his fast playing mates.

The game Wednesday between Paris and Lexington was attended by large week day crowd.

The Hustlers from Winchester will be here today to get theirs. They all look alike to the Paris boys.

Winchester here today, Paris at Winchester tomorrow and Winchester here Sunday.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

--Farmers are getting $1.50 to $2 per month for grazing cattle and horses.

--Lynch & Wiggins, of Hutchison, have received 3,000 pounds of wool from the farm of J. B. Haggins.

--Wheat is being cut in Hutchison neighborhood, and much of it is found to be badly damaged by the fly.

--W. G. McClintock shipped double deck of lambs to New York market Tuesday night, for which he paid 6 cents.

--There is a great scarcity of mules in Western Kentucky and prices are ruling much higher. Many mules from Missouri have been shipped in during the past month.

--Ratliff Bros., of Carlisle, shipped 25 carloads of baled hay to Jacksonville, Fla., and Atlanta, Ga., this week. They also bought and sold 300 barrels of corn last week. They sold it at $4.00 per barrel.

--Wyoming's wool clip this year is said to be 40,000,000 pounds. These figures help to explain Senator Dilliver's reference to a certain Western Senator as "the greatest shepherd since Abraham."

--The imports of potatoes in the United States this spring have been enormous. The receipts for the first three months of 1909 were 3,629,153 bushels, against 125,676 bushels in the same period last year. Heavy cargoes have come from Europe, and shipments have been made from Mexico.

--Judging from the number of new warehouses and redrying plants that are being erected in the various counties of the Burley district, everybody is anticipating an immense crop and are making preparations to handle it. Reports show that most of the crops planted early, a fine stand was secured, and it is growing rapidly. Very little of the crop had to be replanted in any of the counties.

--Capitalists of Kansas City have taken hold of a new process recently discovered for the turning of the various varieties of cactus, especially the common and very abundant variety known as the prickly pear, into cattle food. A factory will be erected in San Antonio which will be the beginning of a chain of factories to cover the Southwest and Mexico. The prickly pear, which grows in rank profusion throughout the Southwest contains as high a per cent. of water as does the watermelon, and in addition is highly nutritious. The difficulty in feeding it arises from the fact that it is covered with millions of thorns, and in times of drouth the stockmen burn these off by means of gasoline torches. This, however, is an expensive operation and is only used as a last resort. The new process reduces the pine to a pulp without any great expense, and as an acre of cactus has the food value of an acre of hay, according to Government experts, the use of cactus will add a great source of wealth to the Southwest.

Bourbon Circuit Court.

After motion hour in the Bourbon Circuit Court Tuesday morning, Judge Stout called the case of Commonwealth vs. John Barton, colored, charged with the murder of George Dilloway, colored, near Hutchison station in June, 1908. Most of the day was taken up with this case. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and gave Barton six years in the penitentiary.

Chas. Lee, Sr., and Chas. Lee, Jr., two negroes hailing from Ruddle's Mills this county, were tried on the charge of setting up and operating a game of chance were acquitted of the charge and released.

George W. Kiefer, of Covington, appeared in court with an application for admission to the bar. Judge Stout appointed James M. O'Brien and Neville C. Fisher as a committee to conduct an examination of Mr. Kiefer and upon their report he was admitted to practice law and was sworn in as an attorney of the Bourbon bar.

Judge J. S. Askew, of Georgetown; Judge J. J. Osborne, of Cynthiana; and Judge Wilson, of Lexington, were the visiting attorneys in attendance.

Nothing worthy of mention transpired in Circuit Court Wednesday and yesterday was devoted to trial of case W. J. Calvert vs. Blue Grass Traction Company for $300 damages for killing his horse and smashing up his buggy. The plaintiff got verdict for $160.

Rain Damages Crop.

All records have been broken in this section by the rainfall for May and June; the rainfall for June is already considerably over an inch more than the average for the month. Farmers are complaining bitterly over their poor prospects and say that their crops will be failures. Several wheat fields in Franklin county will not be cut at all, the crop being too poor to pay for the labor of cutting it. During May the total rainfall was 4.04 inches as compared with 3.51 inches of last year, a record-breaking year. For June the total rainfall last year was 1.90 inches. This year, with nine more days, the rainfall already amounts to 3.12 inches. Rain has made it impossible to plow, and weeds and grass are taking the corn fields.

Select Your Corset with Care.

Your appearance depends entirely upon your figure. Your figure depends entirely upon your corset. To produce the hipless figure with the slender, graceful lines now in vogue, a perfect corset must be worn, a model that will give you the desired effect and fit you comfortably. Since the introduction of the graceful, slender hip effect, we have satisfied a great many of our most particular customers, with the splendidly shaped Henderson Fashion Form Corsets. Note the stunning effect produced by the model illustrated.

This style, 702, is medium high in the bust and is extra long below the waistline, having a deep, soft extension over abdomen and hips and is double boned throughout. We carry this model in similar styles in several values, ranging in prices from $1.50 to $3.

Rich Men's Gifts are Poor beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevault, of Vestal Centre, N. Y., "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells, soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c. at Oberdorfer's.

Girl Has Remarkable Voice.

A 16-year-old girl who sings bass was heard in a London hall the other day. Until a year ago she had the usual soprano voice of a girl of her size; then the voice grew deeper and deeper, and to-day it is as low as a man's. A specialist who examined her throat found the vocal chords to be singularly large and broad.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

numbful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W. J. Atkins worked as night watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up his work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. An Early Magnate.

"By the strength of my hand I have come it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent. And I have removed the bonds of the people and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man. And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathered eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth or peeped.—Sennacherib.

New Trolley Lines.

Yesterday's issue of the Cincinnati Enquirer contained the following: "The plans of the Cincinnati, Louisville, Lexington and Maysville Traction Company to establish a system of trolley lines which will unite many Kentucky towns and cities with Cincinnati, seem nearer consummation now than at any time since the project was launched by its promoters, a company of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio capitalists.

Monday W. T. S. Blackburn, of Grant County, Kentucky, President of the company, which was recently incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000 addressed an enthusiastic audience of farmers at Independence, the county seat of Kenton County, Kentucky, upon the plans in progress, and in less than an hour subscriptions, amounting to $2700, were secured from private individuals of that place. This sum compares favorably with amounts subscribed in other rural communities, and the spontaneous interest exhibited by the citizens of the towns through which the proposed road will run leads the promoters to feel confident of success.

Mr. Blackburn, in his address at Independence Monday, stated that it was intended to run the line from Louisville to Maysville, Ky., connecting with Cincinnati. The road will go by way of Lexington. From that point one branch will go east, to Maysville and another north to Georgetown and Paris, to Dry Ridge, in Grant county, Ky., thence to Walton, Boone county, Ky. There the road will branch, one line running from Walton to Erlanger, thence to Crescent Springs, and from that point either to Bromley or to the present end of the Lewisburg car line branching from Walton will run through Nicholson to Independence, then, as far as practicable, will follow the Banklick Turnpike through Sandford town, connecting with the South Covington and Cincinnati cars at Latonia. Both these routes contemplate embracing all smaller towns intervening between the points named. Rights of way for that part of the route in Kenton County have been secured in most instances, it is said, and Blackburn claims that enough money has been subscribed to justify the work. Subscribers will not be asked to pay subscriptions until the rails are laid. "Neither traction interests of Covington or this city are involved in the pending deal. The territory named is thickly populated."

NO DRAGGING OF BUNDLES

ON THE

NEW CENTURY BINDER

It Does Clean Work

A binder that does not cleanly separate the bundles from the untied grain costs a lot of your temper and time. Time is money during harvest. To avoid this loss use the New Century. The above cut tells the story. From the moment the needle appears above the grain until it returns beneath the deck, no grain is fed down by the packers. They serve to keep the grain from pressing against the needle. The revolving discharge arms do not come into contact with the untied grain. For good clean work use the New Century. If you will only let us show you the New Century and thoroughly explain it we'll be satisfied with the result for it will be another sale for us—one more satisfied customer.

Genuine Underdraft

IS TO BE HAD ON THE

ADMIRAL MOWER ONLY

THE WONDERFULLY EASY FOOT-LIFT
THIS CUT ALSO ILLUSTRATES THE DIRECT UNDERDRAFT FEATURE

Every farmer knows that the greater the "Underdraft" of a mower, the better and easier that mower will do its work. Every other maker of mowers uses some device that will enable him to secure as much "Underdraft" as possible. The best of these devices, however, are but makeshifts by which at least two-thirds of the draft is applied through the pole. Walter A. Wood Mowers alone possess genuine "Underdraft." Every ounce of draft is applied through the draft rod (shown in above cut) right where it is needed. A visit to this store will make this valuable feature clear. We honestly believe the Admiral is the best mower on the market to-day and are eager to show it to you and tell you all about it.

BURDENS LIFTED
From Paris Backs—Relief Prov-

Backache is a heavy burden;
Nervousness wears one out;
Rheumatic pain; urinary ills;
All are kidney burdens—
Daily effects of kidney weakness.
No use to cure the symptoms.
Relief is but temporary if the cause remains.
Cure the kidneys and you cure the cause.
Relief comes quickly—comes to say.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney ills.
Cure sick kidneys permanently.
Here's proof that you can verify.
C. A. Wallace, 541 N. St. Clair street, Frankfort, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble in my case was brought on by a strain I received while doing some heavy lifting at my work. I suffered from a dull ache and lameness in my back and as time went on, it grew worse. I could scarcely get around and a difficulty with the kidney secretions also caused me additional annoyance. I used various remedies but received little relief until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. I was helped from the first and continued taking them until I was benefited in every way." (From statement given in 1903.)
On March 5, 1903, Mr. Wallace confirmed the above statement saying:
"The results I received from Doan's Kidney Pills five years ago have lasted and although I am an old man, I am enjoying fine health. I attribute the great change entirely to the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills."

The Value of a Smile.
There are occasions, of course, such as funerals and death beds, where the smile is out of place but barring occasions of that kind you are not apt to smile, too much. There is the case of Joe Barron, the New York waif who raised a quarter of a million for others of his kind. He did it, they say, because he kept smiling when there was little reason why he should. He was suffering with tuberculosis of the bones when he was five years old, and there seemed little hope that he could recover. The boy was sent to a hospital, placed in a plaster cast, but kept smiling. Because of this they called him smiling Joe. President Roosevelt heard of him, and stopped and saw Joe and his smile. He said people should furnish funds to help him. John D.
Rockefeller saw the smile, and offered $125,000 to found a children's hospital if an equal amount was raised. A newspaper man got a picture of Smiling Joe, and that raised the amount. You will probably have no chance to cash your smile for a quarter of a million, but it will make life easier for you and others. It is worth cultivating; remember it grows that way.

Make the Outlook Brighter.
Everyone knows the pleasure of receiving a kind look, a warm greeting, a hand held out to help in distress, a difficulty solved, a higher hope revealed for this world or the next. By that pain and by that pleasure let us judge what we should do for others.—

17 Miners Killed.

Seventeen miners were killed and sixteen were injured in an explosion in Mine No. 4 of the Lackawanna Coal and Coke Company at Wehrum, Pa. The mine was thought to be free of gas and the use of open lamps had been permitted.

Reports Exaggerated.

Reports of the condition of Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, of Denver, daughter of Jefferson Davis, leader of the Confederacy, appear to be exaggerated. Mrs. Hayes has been ill for some time, but she is able to be about and entertains frequently.
